Hi Chase,

This message is to confirm I have received your message and your claim to CBI.

Thanks,

M. Rafati

Mike,

Pursuant to my e-mail below, please find attached La Mirada's letter asserting and substantiating its claim of Confidential Business Information ("CBI") treatment for the financial records that it is producing today (also attached is a Document Production Index with regard to the CBI documents). A CD (designated as CBI) containing La Mirada's responsive financial documents is being sent to your attention by Federal Express today. If you have any questions/comments or difficulty with accessing the documents on the CD, please feel free to contact me at your convenience. Thanks.

Subject: La Mirada Products Co., Inc.'s Response to USEPA's 104(e) Request -- Behr Dayton Thermal Products VOC Plume Site

Mike,

Please find attached the response of La Mirada Products Co., Inc. (La Mirada) to the USEPA's CERCLA 104(e) Request for Information related to the above-referenced site. Also attached is a Document Production Index. Hard copies of both documents, along with a flash drive containing responsive documents from La Mirada, are being sent to your attention today. As noted in La Mirada's response letter, we will also be producing numerous financial records responsive to USEPA's 104(e) Request for Information. However, because these documents contain Confidential Business Information, we will be submitting such documents under separate cover later this week and in accordance with USEPA requirements for substantiating CBI claims.

Should you have any questions or like to discuss La Mirada's response letter and/or documentation, please contact me at your convenience. Thanks.
